THE SETTING

THE ARTISTIC EXPERIENCE

Following the theme of "From despair to hope - a plea for peace, then and now," this stirring program will connect the past with the present, with longings and hopes still as relevant for the times we live in. Repertoire will include several short works of Kim André Arnesen, interspersed with various movements from some of the most well known large works by Mendelssohn and Bach. The Gala concert will take place in the Mendelssohn Hall of the famous Gewandhaus in Leipzig. This historically and musically meaningful program is sure to speak to singers and audience alike.

THE SETTING

For over 800 years, Leipzig has breathed music and celebrates its musicians with festivals every year. Leipzig is known as "heaven" for anyone who loves classical music and sooner or later, anyone who truly admires Bach has to make a pilgrimage to Leipzig, the city where he created most of that wondrous music. However, Bach is not the only reason to visit Leipzig. Felix Mendelssohn lived and worked here, as did Robert and Clara Schumann. Wagner was born and educated here. It's the home of the famous St. Thomas Boys Choir and the great Leipzig Gewandhaus Orchestra, which celebrated its 275th anniversary in 2018. Music publishing and printing were created here, too! Follow the musical footprints of the world's greatest composers and discover Leipzig, the city of music!
